The Federation of the Sisters of Saint Joseph is a dynamic union of all the Sisters of Saint Joseph of the United States who claim a common origin in the foundation at Le Puy, France in 1650. This includes 3,580 Sisters, 3,025 Associates, and 33 Agrégées of 16 Congregations throughout the United States.

Together we strive to embody a vision of all people united in one earth community of love, unity, and reconciliation. We do this through collaborative programs, interaction, prayer, and ministry. In our conflicted 21st century world, the Sisters of Saint Joseph seek to bring our traditions and vision to life in a way that will speak to our contemporary society and be a positive influence for change.

MEMBERS: The U.S. Federation is a membership organization composed of the vowed members, associates, agrégées, St. Joseph Worker community, and partners in mission of 16 communities of Sisters of St. Joseph. This includes autonomous congregations, the Carondelet congregation which has 4 provinces as well as the vice province of Peru, and 2 communities which are provinces of French congregations. Carondelet Center, the general leadership team for the Carondelet congregations, is also represented in the Leadership Assembly.

MISSION: The U.S. Federation of the Sisters of St. Joseph embraces the Gospel Charism of unifying love for the healing and transformation of the world.

VALUES: The U.S. Federation is grounded in the following values:

- Love of God and neighbor without distinction, from whom we do not separate ourselves
- Prayer, contemplation, and discernment that lead to courageous action
- Responsiveness to the needs of the world and oneness with creation
- Unity forged through respect, appreciation of diversity, and collaboration

VISION: As members of the Federation of the Sisters of St. Joseph, we respond to the movement of the Spirit to keep the flame of the charism alive. We embrace an all-inclusive and self-emptying love that nurtures unity among ourselves and the “dear neighbor” without distinction. Imbued with our rich heritage and attentive to the evolving needs of the world, we proclaim the Gospel message of unifying love thereby becoming a transforming and healing presence in the world. With the vision, “that all may be one, (John 17:21)” members of the Federation deepen mutually sustaining and life-giving relationships.

Expanding our membership is a key piece of the U.S. Federation’s bold new dream. The Leadership Assembly unanimously agreed to open Federation membership to all those associated with our member congregations, including agrégées, associates, partners in mission, St. Joseph Workers, and among those who shared the charism and spirituality of the Sisters of St. Joseph. Previously they could join in some Federation programs, projects, and committees. Now, the possibility to choose official membership will allow them to find new responsibilities, roles, and ways of participating in our mission. We are forming a working group to create an implementation plan for these membership changes.

HISTORY: The Sisters of Saint Joseph were among the first Catholic communities to be founded for the ordinary woman. They were not wealthy or educated and worked to support themselves by making lace, a common trade in the region of France where they began. Today, those who are attracted to this vision still live among the people and offer their lives in love and service. We carry on the heritage of our founders, 6 French women who joined a Jesuit priest in 1650 to begin a community without cloister or habit and devoted to the needs of the ordinary people. They shared a profound desire for union with God and the “dear neighbor.”

The community grew. Then, caught in the political turmoil of the French Revolution, the congregation was disbanded. Some of the Sisters were martyred at the guillotine and others returned to their homes or went into hiding. After the revolution ended, Jeanne Fontbonne, a heroic woman who narrowly escaped the guillotine herself, re-founded the Sisters of St. Joseph at Lyon, France. In 1836, she sent three sisters to Carondelet, Missouri. From there, they spread across the United States beginning new foundations and now are members of the organization known as The United States Federation of the Sisters of Saint Joseph.

MINISTRIES: The basic desire of the Sisters of Saint Joseph is to reflect a “profound love of God and Neighbor without distinction.” Our mission is to love and work so that all may be one. By trying to build relational communities wherever we live and serve, we keep this mission alive.

Today, Sisters of Saint Joseph can be found in soup kitchens, shelters, universities, schools, hospitals, courtrooms, prisons, retreat centers, offices, nursing homes, laboratories, studios, and hospices. We are educators, lawyers, doctors, nurses, family therapists, social workers, patient advocates, spiritual directors, parish ministers, theologians, psychologists, physical therapists, administrators, artists, authors, musicians, poets, and a myriad of other ministries.
